Fines Some Rich Ore

John Faming came in from Etolin Island last Thursday night. Mr. Faming has spent the past year prospecting on that island and this is the first time that he has been in town since last fall. He has some samples with him of a ledge of free milling gold that he predicts will run $200 per ton. If this is true he has made a great find but as the weather has been unfavorable he was unable to prospect it very fully.

Seattle, Mar. 26—Halibut is selling at five and a half and five and three-quarters cents per pound today.

Secretary Redfield Wants Better Survey

San Francisco, Mar. 24—Secretary of Commerce Redfield will make a demand for a more careful survey of the Alaska coast to increase the safety of shipping in the north. He says the wreck of the State of California had no business to be if the government had supplied the Coast Survey with the proper apparatus such as wire drag apparatus such as the Canadian government supplies. He will ask for several more Survey vessels to be used in this work along the Alaskan coast.

Appropriation For Public Buildings

Washington, Mar. 26—Delegate Wickersham is introducing a bill providing for an increase of public buildings in Juneau. The cost of the buildings to be not less than $450,000. The buildings will provide rooms for the Territorial Legislature, a museum and a public library.

Trying To Abolish Fort Davis

Washington, Mar. 24—Delegate Wickersham is fighting the War Department against their decision to abolish Fort Davis near Nome, Alaska, claiming that the station is a necessity to that part of the Territory.

President Wilson Has Majority

Washington, Mar. 24—It is claimed by several prominent men here that President Wilson has a seventy-five majority in the House for the repeal of the tolls through the Panama Canal.

Says She Shot As A Warning

Paris, Mar. 24—Mme. Caillaux on the stand in her defense stated that she did not intend to kill the editor of one of the Paris papers, but only to shoot at him as a warning not to publish certain letters that he had threatened to print.

Washington, Mar. 26—The opening of the coal lands in Alaska by the leasing plan is the proposed bill agreed on by the Senate Committee on Public Lands yesterday.

Seattle, Mar. 26—The steamers Spokane and Admiral Evans cleared for the north last night. Both steamers have a good passenger list.

Juarez, Mar. 26—Gen. Chao the military govenor of Chihuahua, states that he has received encouraging news from Villa that General Carranza is understood to be hurrying towards Torreon with a large force of armed men.

Secretary Lane To Visit Alaska

Washington, Mar. 26—Secretary of the Interior Lane will make a trip to Alaska this summer according to information given out last night. The trip will be made as early as possible depending upon the action of Congress.

Lane To See For Himself

Washington, Mar. 26—In a conference this morning Secretary Lane stated to Delegate Wickersham that he wanted to go north at an early date in order to make a trip through the Interior to judge the resources and prospects of the country to be opened by the new Government railroad.

Wants Arms Sent Against Ulsterites

Belfast, Mar. 24—Riot broke out in this city early this morning between the soldiers and Ulstermen.

London, Mar. 24—The King is being severely criticized for not sending the army against Ulsterites which are up in arms over the passage of the Home Rule Bill for Ireland.

Wick. Opposing More Land Offices

Washington, Mar. 24—Delegate Wickersham is vigorously opposing the Department of the Interior in their plans to establish additional land offices in either Seward or Cordova, the former place is most probable.

Washington, Mar. 26—Telegrams protesting against the repeal of the Panama Canal tolls were read in the Senate yesterday by Senator Jones of Washington and Senator Thomas of Colorado.

San Francisco, Mar. 26—The steam whaler Herman left this city yesterday for the north in an effort to locate the exploration boat Karluk which is lost somewhere in the Arctic Ocean having been caught in a large ice floe when last heard of.

El Paso, Mar. 26—Message from the city of Mexico claim that the rebels under Villa have been routed by the federals at Metamoras and Palacio, and the federals are now in possession of both places.

Washington, Mar. 26—Representative Ainey bitterly attacked President Wilson yesterday for lending a deaf ear to the outrages being committed on Americans now in Mexico.

Washington, Mar. 24—President Wilson and family will probably make their summer home at Williamstown, Mass. with his daughter Mrs. Sayre or possibly secure a home there.

Saw Mill Office Robbed

The office of the saw mill was broken into last Tuesday night and the burglar or burglars got away with $90.15 in cash.

The office was entered through the back window which had been raised as far as possible that was about 8 inches and as it could not be raised any higher the sash was broken out and the burglar entered the office. He pried off the cash till with an axe and taking it out back of the office broke it open. There were two checks in the till which were left, the robbers taking only the cash.

The Northwestern was in port late that night and some are of the opinion that that the parties left on that boat. This is the second time that the mill has been robbed having been entered about 12 years ago and all cash taken.

Constantinople, Mar. 25—It is reported here that former Sultan Abdul Hamid is dead.

Chihuahua, Mar. 25—The rebels report that seven hundred federals were killed in a fierce fighting at Gomez Palacio.

Juarez Mar. 25—Advices received here that the rebels made a victorious battle before Torreon and are sweeping on to the city.

J. J. McTague is suffering from a very severe burn which he received last Sunday morning about 10 o'clock when flang which he was working on blew out and let the gas ammonia from the compressor cistern escape striking him in the face. Mr. McTague was remodling his freezing plant at his butcher shop and had pumped the liquid ammonia from the pipes and thinking them clear started to take them apart when the gas ammonia which had contracted in the compression cistern exploded and blew the flang apart letting the ammonia out which struck him in the face knocking him off the box on which he was working. How Mr. McTague got out of the room is a miracle as he was blinded by the gas which had blinded his hands and face. He rushed across to the drug store but as no one was in he was taken to the home of C. W. Albright, engineer at the cold storage, who took charge of him until the arrival of Dr. Dawes.

At first it was feared he would lose his eye sight but Dr. Dawes reports that he is resting much easier and will come out little the worse for the experience, which was certainly a very close call.

EDITORIAL

March Twenty-fourth. The day which might be termed the black day in Wrangell's history, passed last Tuesday, March 24, 1906, the date of the beginning of the big fire which wiped out most of the business portion of our little city. There are many in town who were here then and suffered the loss along with many that are gone. The fire started in the old Pioneer Hotel and had a good headway before it was discovered, the weather was cold and dry and as there was no city water system at that time the fire spread rapidly taking out the entire section from where the Matheson Department Store now stands to the St. Michael Trading Co. before it could be checked.

Much could be said on this subject were time and space permit but suffice to say we have built up from the ruins of the old a much better, brighter and greater city, and in the years to come may she continue as she has in the past few years until we have taken the place that Wrangell deserves among the first cities of this great country of our adoption.

It must be discouraging to reformers to learn from Government reports the facts about the increasing use of liquor and tobacco. During the current fiscal year 400,000 pounds more of paper was used for revenue stamps than last year. This indicates a heavy increase of sales and a corresponding greater use of strong beverages and tobacco. Is the high cost of living to blame? Are people trying to satisfy their hunger with whiskey and cigars?

Harmony is the armor that will make the Republican hosts invincible.

How is it the hanging of an American citizen in Mexico causes no excitement?

Jack London says he is ready to run for President. Kindly condense.

Man is mightily fooled in woman according to a Berkeley professor. And a most willing fool, too.

Huerta declares that he will not permit us to send a large force of marines to Mexico City. The fellow flatters us.

Pragmatism did not begin in this country with William James. It goes back at least as far as Harriet Beecher Stowe, who wrote that "faith becomes knowledge" if we believe hard enough. This is but another way of saying that any belief which works well for a man is true as far as he is concerned.

"Universal truths" are merely beliefs that worked well for all of us. In the light of modern thought, "absolute truth" loses all of its substance.

Is the good Samaritan your ideal of a man? There will be a moving picture service at St. Philips Church Sunday evening, March 29. The subject will be the Good Samaritan.

Most of the murderous instruments of war are manufactured by a gentle-hearted woman, who was formerly Miss Bertha Krupp. The terrible guns her machinery turns out have caused many thousands of widows and orphans. And she rolls in the wealth secured by means of her death-dealing devices.

The modern woman, when she is told to stay at home and keep house, has a ready retort. She says that municipal shiftlessness prevents her from keeping home decently. It fouls her floors, poisons the food, defiles the air and fills her rooms with deadly gases. In order to keep home properly she has first to clean up the city, and this draws her into politics. Women go into public life mainly to defend their homes against men's ignorant shiftlessness.

A Maryland man boasts of having shaken hands with every President since William Henry Harrison. No doubt he would regard it as a sacrilege to wash his historical digits.

18 Men For Dease Lake

The opening season for the great interior mining section up the Stikine is nearing and every boat from the south is bringing in miners and prospectors bound for that section of the country. Capt. Johannsen took a party of 18 men over to the Stikine last Sunday all bound for that part of the country. Among the party were Wm. Strong, J. P.
Kuhn and son, John Simpson,
Loyd Simpson, Al Simpson, F. R.
Howell, Frank Goreska, B. O. Albertson, A. Beatty, D. W. Jackson and Dick Inkski. There were over 20 dogs along with the party, which will be used to take in the seasons supplies to Dease Lake.

These men are nearly all old timers in that section and all have the utmost confidence that it is the coming mining district.

Old Winter is gone. Spring has come again. The snow has disappeared, except a little which lingers in the hollow, which the warm spring sunshine is fast melting away.

The birds have returned to the sunny south, and are filling the air with their sweet music. The trees are released from their icy claws and go singing on their way,
the blue-berry blossoms are showing pink and white, grass is sprinting up, and violets are beginning to awaken. All nature rejoices and
"We'll give that up and
"Drop into poetry")

"When the spring winds blow o'er
the pleasant places
The same dear things lift up the same fair faces,

The violet is here."

When the March wind blows keen
in our faces

The same old trash lies in the same old places

And looks so queer.

(That doesn't sound just right.
We'll try again.)

"Where the singing waters flow,
Where the grass begins to show,
There the pussy willows grow
In a row."

When the winds begin to blow,
And the rain takes off the snow,
The old cans begin to show
Don't you know.

Oh, dear, we're getting mixed up again. Our Pegasus is jaded. We'll get off and—

"Saddle and bridle lay on the shelf,
If you want any more you may
sing it yourself

Hm-ha- sing it yourself."
